HISTORICAL RECORD OF GENERAL STATUTES

NOTE

The historical record is a tabulated statement of the statutes of the state treated as of general operation by the board of statutory consolidation and also of the statutes in terms affecting them.

The record is not limited to the presentation merely of the statutes which have been affected in terms by subsequent statutes but presents as well the general legislation of the state treated as such by the board, though not affected in terms by any subsequent statute.

A double purpose is thus served, that of pointing out the statutes or portions of statutes treated by the board as general in its consolidation of the statutes and that of giving the legislation affecting the statutes so considered.

The portion of a statute treated as general is printed in Italic type and is followed by a record of the portion affected, which is printed in Roman type.

In order that the history of an original or amendatory statute may be traced separately without following down the record from one related statute to another, each statute affecting in terms a prior statute refers in the "subject" column to the original statute affected, and not only do all in terms amendatory or otherwise affecting statutes appear under the original statute affected but each amendatory statute is followed by all subsequent statutes in terms affecting it.

In some cases where a statute in terms affected a previous statute without specifying the section affected, it has not been deemed wise to attempt to point out the part affected but simply to note the amending statute as affecting "all" of the original.

The sections of a statute affected have been arranged numerically, but where particular sections of a statute have been affected and the whole of the statute has also been affected, the latter fact appears in the table following the particular sections affected.

The hyphen when used between two numbers means both inclusive, as well as intermediate numbers.

The chapter numbers of the statutes enacted during the first twenty-four sessions are given in this record as they appear in the authorized reprint of the legislation of these sessions, prepared pursuant to L. 1885, Ch. 341.

Bracketed figures wherever they occur in the first section column indicate sections of the original statute affected.

The table embraces the period from February 1, 1778, to January 1, 1909.

Respectfully,

ADOLPH J. RODENBECK, Chairman,
WILLIAM B. HORNBLOWER,
JOHN G. MILBURN,
ADELBERT MOOT,

NOTE.—The Revised Statutes were enacted during the legislative sessions of 1827, 1828, and were published in three volumes in 1829. Subsequent to the passage of the Revised Statutes there were published numerous editions of the same, in which many independent statutes were incorporated and numbered as sections thereof. References in the session laws were thereafter frequently made to sections as they appeared in these editions instead of to the statutes as they existed in the session laws. In this record in such cases the Revised Statutes have not been noted as affected, the record of legislation being given under the statute in fact amended. Independent statutes have been treated in this record under the Revised Statutes only when the legislation became a part of the Revised Statutes by express provision. References in this record are to the Revised Statutes as originally enacted and as affected in terms by subsequent legislation. All the Revised Statutes are treated in this record as general.

† Laws 1842, Ch. 130, covered the same subject embraced in R. S., Pt. 1, Ch. 6, and repealed the latter. The statute of 1842 was incorporated in the so-called third edition of the Revised Statutes as Pt. 1, Ch. 6. Amendments to the election law [L. 1842, Ch. 130] were frequently made under the term "R. S., Pt. 1, Ch. 6," when, in fact, L. 1842, Ch. 130, was the statute amended. These amendments appear in the Historical Record under L. 1842, Ch. 130.

*This chapter was repealed by L. 1847, Ch. 460, which also provided that "in all future editions of the revised statutes this law shall be inserted and published as chapter third of part fourth of said statutes." Title 2 (§§ 29-144), of the 1847 statute was superseded by L. 1889, Ch. 382. The legislature in amendments subsequent to L. 1847, Ch. 460, referred to the Revised Statutes and also to the other two statutes. In this record the history of this subject is placed under the Revised Statutes, Pt. 4, Ch. 3, but in three divisions corresponding to the date of enactment of the Revised Statutes, L. 1847, Ch. 460, and L. 1889, Ch. 382, respectively.

† The original chapter three of part four of the Revised Statutes was all repealed by L. 1847, Ch. 460, which also substituted a new chapter. The affecting statutes here given affect the new chapter three, as enacted by L. 1847, Ch. 460. See preceding footnote.
